

20th GT International Conference

Development of Sensitivity For Co-incidences

Wending senior consultant

A.A.J.Millenaar

Gent , Belgium,
September 17, 2019

-1- Exchange of Experience with Co-incidence

Everybody sometimes experience Co-incidence.

*some of us became curious from the early Childhood

*Others realise these coincidences later in their lives

Not everybody pays attention BUT....by Exchange of Experience we are able to become attentive

-2- Co-incidences are :

-A- Combination of Happenings by Chance.

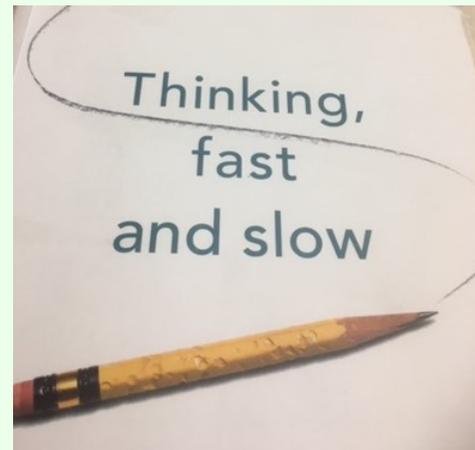

- a) An expected Happening does not take place
- b) An un-expected Happening takes place.

-B- Mainly 2ways to approach such co-incidences.

- c) Intuitive way with fast thinking
- d) rational way with slow thinking

D.Kahneman (Nobel prise Winner)

“Thinking fast & slow”

-3- Albert Einstein about intuition

I never did my discoveries through the Process of Rational way of Thinking

-4- Meaningful Co-incidences

*Several Happenings take place in the same time.

In this way co-incidences becomes: Meaningful

Most of the time we can find the Cause and

Consequence in a Retrospective way

-5- Synchronicity

There is not always a Causal Connection.

Prof. Carl Jung : calls this phenomenon : Synchronicity.

He explains that there is sometimes a A-Causal or Non Causal Connection “We become aware that we are connected with greater Wholeness in universe”

(Prof.Dr John McGee calls this Interdependence)

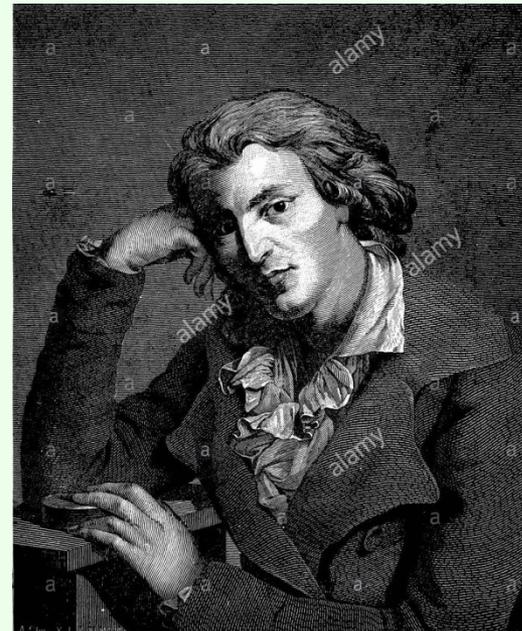

-6- Synchro Destiny

We can find a real Sense of this Connectedness in our own life. Deepak Chopra called this Phenomenon Synchro Destiny. He mentioned that this expresses awareness of a developing pattern in our lives.

-7- Quote from Friedrich Schiller

There are no-Incidences ; what we observe as just an accident, originates from the deepest source of the co-incidences

-8- Awareness of Co-incidences e.g.

The learning process to be (come) more aware of Co-incidences we found by Dr. John McGee with Gentle Teaching and more specific with the Presence of our Tools

-8'- In Summary:

With Our Hands we could make physical Connection with other people*

With Our Eyes we can experience the mirror of the universe*

Our Presence we develop the Feeling of Companionship (we share)*

And so much more....as we all are able to experience

-9- Using Tools we Tools we need Empathy

With Mirror Neurons in our brains we develop this Empathy. 3 important Elements of Empathy are :

- a- The possibility to feel what the other feels
- b- The understanding what another experiences
- c- This Feeling and Understanding could be the drive to take Action to support the other

-9'- Quote of Dr. John McGee :

Empathy is not a pity. It is the feeling of Being one with the other. It is a trying to understand why the other act in a particular way...

-10- With these Tools & Empathy we recognize Meaningful Co-incidences

This recognition we can stimulate by :

+ Reciprocity is mutual understanding of each other

+ Amazement the capability to experience each incident, with an open mind, as an unique

Happening

+ Intuition ; mostly in a split second. Afterwards we evaluate that our lives become Meaningful (make Sense) with the involved people around us

-10'- Presentation of an Example of Coincidences and Synchronicity in my own life

After this I want to ask you to exchange Coincidences And/or Synchronicity in your own life with your neighbor (sitting beside you) within several minutes(Elevator pitch!).

-11- Quote from Albert Schweitzer

Eventually all things fall into place. Until then laugh at the confusion. Live for the moments and know Everything happens for as reason (my note : Meaning)

